

The 2000 API Safety & Fire Protection Conference and Exhibition

Monday, October 30, 2000
Wyndham Palace Hotel
Lake Buena Vista, Florida

A New Beginning: Managing Change For A Safer World

Mark your calendar now.

Plan now to attend the 2000 API Safety & Fire Protection Conference and Exhibition on Monday, October 30, 2000, at the Wyndham Palace Hotel. This day-long conference is a forum for health, safety, fire protection and risk management professionals, and those involved with operations, to present and discuss issues of importance to our industry.

Add to your knowledge of contemporary health, safety and fire protection issues, techniques, and procedures. Learn from your peers about new and creative methods of effective loss prevention in the modern day workplace.

Look for information regarding Sponsorship and Exhibit opportunities.

The benefits of attending the 2000 Safety & Fire Protection Conference are:

- Hear from an API-Member Executive on how management keeps safety a priority in a rapidly changing workplace.
- Choose between these two in-depth break-out sessions: Managing Human Factors and PSM Beyond the Regulation.
- Get the latest information on emerging issues, such as static at service station safety, self-directed workgroups, and activity-based management.
- Network with your peers while learning about new advances in technology.
- Participate in API's Fall Refining Meeting taking place in the same hotel that week, including the Fall Operating Practices Symposium on Tuesday, October 31st.
